SUPPORTERS OF PLASTIC OCEANS

Helping keep plastics out of our oceans

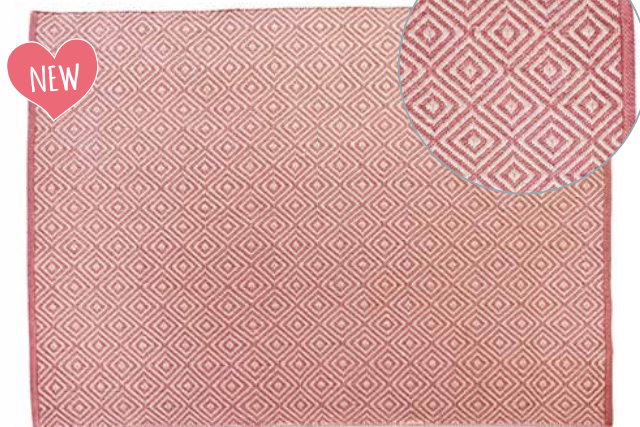

We've been recycling plastic bottles for our lovely HugRugs for over 10 years and we are delighted to be recycling so many more by bringing you this beautiful range of Rugs, Throws and Cushions made 100% from recycled plastics (salvaged from the ocean and from land) – how clever is that!

They look and feel like wool but can be used indoors or outdoors and are mould mildew and moth resistant which means they stay fresher for longer. They are all easy wash and quick dry making them perfect for anywhere in your home and garden – and by buying one you're helping the planet at the same time!

♥ SENSE & WOVEN – CLEVER STUFF

We've been recycling waste plastic since we launched our HugRug range in 2008

...with some clever technology in between

HOW WE TURN PLASTIC BOTTLES INTO FABULOUS PRODUCTS

We also use recycled plastics to make all our webbing that bonds our HUGRUG cotton tufts to the backing and post industrial plastic waste in all our backing.

♥ LOOKING AFTER YOUR WOVEN PRODUCTS

KEEPING IT CLEAN:

As they are suitable for indoor and outdoor use they will obviously get dirty at some point, but don't worry

- Remove any loose dirt, and for cushions remove the inner
- Hand wash or machine wash at 30°C using a light detergent or non-biological washing powder. Larger rugs may need a commercial washing machine.
- Allow to air dry naturally. Do not tumble dry.

HugRug Woven is designed to look and feel like natural wool please be aware that some natural pilling or yarn snagging may occur but they will still look gorgeous.

MICROFIBRE

When washing any textile items tiny fibres are released and can make their way from the washing machine into our rivers and oceans. We all need to reduce the number of microfibrils that get flushed away. The best option is to buy a specifically designed wash bag to prevent this – the best on the market is the GUPPYFRIEND Washing bag. The bag helps prevent friction and fibre damage/loss which in turn extends the life of the textiles, washing in a pillowcase will prevent larger fibres from escaping into your washing machine but not the tiny ones. Fibres can then be scooped up and disposed of properly.

An increasing number of products are coming to the market to help prevent microfibre pollution in washing, find one that is right for you.

TO CARE FOR YOUR RUG AND THE PLANET: THINGS WE RECOMMEND

CUT DOWN ON THE WASHING: Lots of our products are washable but should only be washed if they really need it, try brushing or vacuuming once mud or dirt is dry and you may find they don't need to be washed.

WASHING WITH CARE:

- Use a filter bag like the GUPPYFRIEND
- Wash at 30°C or cold – the hotter the wash the more the fibres can be damaged
- Use an eco-friendly liquid washing detergent to reduce chemicals and abrasion – have you tried ECOVER?
- Use shorter washing cycles – less time means less friction so less damage
- Reduce the spin speed – higher spin speed can damage the fibres causing them to break loose
- Full loads reduce movement and friction so causing less damage to the fibres

As part of our continual approach to improvement we are always searching for ways to improve our products and reduce environmental impact.
